

PUBLIC CONCERNS AND COMPLAINTS

While the school board recognizes its obligation to be available to the public at all times, it also believes that individual complaints can usually be resolved most effectively by the parties directly concerned. The school board therefore will not hear complaints from individual parents until such complaints have been raised first with the child's teacher. If not resolved, the parent will take their complaint successively to the department head (where appropriate), building administrator, the superintendent, then the school board and N.H. Department of Education.
