

Earth Day, 2011 April 22nd

Join the celebration and discussion!

To celebrate the day, schools will be working collaboratively with people around the world to produce and air a live webcast which typically lasts for the entire 24 hours of the GMT (Greenwich Mean Time) day! This year many schools are on vacation (or not in session) on April 22nd. Rye Jr High will start the webcast at 8:30 am EDT and continue for the entire school day. [There will also be a simulcast in Spanish at <http://puentesalmundo.net>.]

What is a webcast? It is an interactive broadcast of audio, and sometimes video, on the internet. This webcast will also allow for audience participation via a live chat room and/or skype calls. It is intended to be a conversation about our Earth.

How do I get to the webcast?

Connect to the internet and go to <http://earthbridges.net/live>.

Click on the small Ustream play button for video (if being used) OR click on the play arrow on the FMP Minicaster. (If you play both, you will hear an echo.)

To follow along and/or join the chat, type in a name for the Earthbridges room. (You may to need switch it to say Earthbridges, not EdTechTalk.) No password is required. Please remain respectful at all times.

Earthbridges Live Studio
Thu, 06/25/2009 - 14:33 -- admin

To listen or watch the live webcast click on the Ustream play button or Icecast play button to the right. To enter the text chatroom below, type any ID - no password required. If you get an 'invalid username' message, try a different username. Chat logs will be included in the program archives, so please do not post any private information. If you have trouble accessing this chat room, try downloading the latest version of Java.

Stream Status  (Spanish) Studio

Ustream Live
Earthcast

2 viewers / On Air

Username:
Password: Login
Room:
Forgotten your password?
Create a new user account

WORLD BRIDGES
CHAT ROOM

What's the schedule of events? The schedule is located at <http://earthbridges.wikispaces.com/EARTHCAST2011>.

[7th grade will be live at 8:30-9:15 and 10:45-11:30]

More details? Go to <http://tinyurl.com/earthdayNH>